The poor Mormons are literally overwhelmed with troubles. The grasshoppers seem likely to expel them from Utah, but it appears, from two of the recent speeches of Brigham Young, that he almost forgets the grasshopper affliction in a still greater one. From what he says, we judge that the officers and soldiere of Col. Steptoe's detachment of U. S. groops, who sojourned among the Mormons last winter and a portion of the spring and then went to California, created a terrible sensation among the Mormon women. Those women, fascinated by the handsome faces and fine uniforms of the troops, concluded, that, instead of letting one old prophet or apostle or saint play husband for a dozen or a score or a hundred of them, they might as well have a husband apiece. The consequence of this conclusion was, that, when the troops went to California, a good many of the Mormon females went with them. Brigham Young tells his people in his speeches that the females who thus turned traitor to the holy principle of polygamy are all dead. He intimates that he himself had them pursued and killed upon the journey; but we don't believe a word of it-we guess they have got safe to California and are destined to be the mothers of larger families there than they would ever be likely to have in Utah.

A New York paper, in view of these facts, thinks that the best way of breaking up the Mormon settlement at Utah, if the grasshoppers fail to do it, is very obvious. It suggests that President Pierce send another detachment of good-looking U. S. troops to the Salt Lake, and, at the end of two or three months, order them off to California, and replace them by a new detachment, and so on, until the Turks of the desert are reduced by feminine desertions to the standard Christian regulation of one wife apiece. We presume there would be no difficulty at all procuring troops for such a service. To be re, Brigham Young swears terribly that he will put instantly to death any troops that shall behave as the last did toward the Mormon women, but our brave fellows have as much of one sort of gallantry for armed men as they have of another sort for unarmed women.

RELIEF FOR NORFOLK AND PORTSMOUTH. Contributions for the relief of the sufferers in Norfolk and Portsmouth continue to be made throughout the country with commendidable liberality. We -ubjoin a list of the principle contributing cities and towns.

This is a very handsome sum, but by no means as large as will propably be required before the two unfortunate cities are again blessed with health, and her scattered citizens can with safety return to their desolate homes. The amount in many of the cities will no doubt be increased

Besides the above large amounts of breadstuffs, provision, clothing, etc., have been contributed. Baltimore is now sustaining a large number of orphan children sent there from Norfolk and Portsmouth. We see from the Pittsburg and Cincinnati papers that collections are taken up there. What will Louisville do to-

MECHANICS' INSTITUTE .- The time of opening the exhibition of the Institute is rapidly approaching. Already the committee are making active preparations for the reception and arrangement of goods. Their fine hall has been put in excellent order-spacious galleries for to all the way business. She leaves this eve promenades with ample staircases of easy ascent leading to them have been added and every improvement that would add to the general interest has been made. All goods must be entered and in the hall on or before the 25th inst, in order to have them examined by the judges. Depositors should remember this as we understand the committee will adhere strictly to their advertised rules and regulations. We understand that the committee have assurances that warrant them in anticipating a much better exhibition than they have yet had. Many persons are becoming members of the Institute who were not last year and everything augurs a "good time coming." Those wishing to procure tickets as members or otherwise can obtain them at all hours of the actuary Mr. M M. Green at the Library Hall up to the time of the opening.

THE WHEELER CASE.—The negroes found uilty of assaulting Col. Wheeler, at the time when his servants were hustled from on board the ferry boat at Philadelphia, were on Monday sentenced by Judge Kelley to one week's imprisonment and to pay a fine of ten dollars-for the encouragement of others.

[Forthe Louis ville Bulletin.] RUDE AND GENTLE.

Hark to that moan, solemn and lone. Which swells from the mighty deep; When tempests rock with sudden shock The waves from their quiet sleep. Now surges clash and breakers dash, Far up on the rock-bound shore; And wild despair shrieks on the air, Then is lost 'mid ocean's roar. List! far away, in twilight gray,

On the blue sea are harp-strings free, Attuned to mermaid fingers.

The rippling waves o'er coral caves ice to the sea-shell's number Whilst on the crest of ocean's breast The moonlight sweetly slumbers.

Hark to the ear are wild winds drear. Through lonely forests wailing: Where, brown and sere, the dying year His threadbare robe is trailing; Now phantom forms ride on the storms When night, thick night, descendeth

And savage beasts hold bloody feasts,
Until the darkness endeth.
Soft blows the breeze, green wave the trees
In that grand forest olden; In that grand forest olden;
Blithe birds now sing—"Welcome to spring
And to the sunlight golden."
The air is filled with dews distilled
From flowers with sweetness teeming;
And on the hill, by shady rill,

The shepherd-boy lies dr Life against life, such is the strife When man in war engageth: Athirst for blood, a crimson flood, Alone his wrath assuageth. Curse me my foe, let direst woe Enshroud his soul forever; Such the desire of fiendish ire As dews refresh at even; So woman's smile will wrath beguile—

Her tears entreat for heaven.
At morning's blush or evening's hush,
This her sweet prayer ascendeth: 'Let conflict cease, let there be peace Till time his mission endeth.' LOUISVILLE, Aug. 23, 1855.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river continues to decline, but the papers bring us accounts of heavy rains above. We may therefore anticipate another rise. Last evening there were 7 feet 3 inches water in the canal, 4 feet 1 inch over the rocks on the falls, night before last, and yesterday a drizzling rain continued all day. The thermometer at two o'clock stood at 83.

The Cumberland river was falling on Tuesday with 51 feet water on the shoals.

The R. L. Cobb left Nashville on Wednesday for this port.

The St. Louis Republican, of Wednesday,

The river at this point is at a stand, and the Uncle Sam reports six feet ten inches in the channel to Cairo. We have no change to report in any of the upper rivers—they are falling The Illinois with three feet to Lasalle, the Upper Mississippi with twenty inches on the Lower Rapids, and the Missouri with four feet scant to St. Joseph.

The Ginon arrived at St. Louis on Tuesday from Fort Pierre, having been seventy-six days gone from St. Louis.

The W. W. Farmer, from New Orleans, came up as far as Newburg, and then returned to Evansville, where she was loading on Wednesday for New Orleans.

A new boat called the P. Lorenz has just been completted at Pitsburg for the trade between this port and St. Louis. She is 155 feet long, has 35 feet beam, and the hold is 5 feet 3 inches deep. She has three boilers. Capt. R. Gracey is to command her.

The new Missouri river packet, the A. B. Chambers, was to leave Cincinnati last evening for St. Louis.

Two immense boilers, designed for the U.S. steamship Susquehanna, and made at the establishment of Messrs. Merrick & Sons, of Philadelphia, were hauled in the Navy Yard on Saturday. It required a team of thirty horses to draw each of them.

There is a fleet of boats advertised to leave

The Southerner, Capt. Catterlin, is the packet for St. Louis. She is really a fine boat. Messrs. Moody and Taylor, her clerks, have our thanks for favors. We understand that Capt. Catterlin and Messrs. M. and T. have in course of construction at Cincinnati a sternwheel boat.

The elegant Memphis packet, Tishomingo, Capt. Briscoe, is off this evening. If there is any boat our merchants should patronize liberally it is the T. Messrs. Levi and De Hart have our thanks for late papers.

The Rainbow was up at 10 o'clock vesterday morning, having made the trip to Henderson and back in less than forty hours, and attended ning. Messrs. Huston have furnished us with a copy of the manifest. The large steamer Sultana, Capt. Bently, leaves for New Orleans this evening.

The Harrison Bridges starts for Green river to-day from the city wharf.

We observe that Capt. McGuire's Grapeshot is up for Cincinnati. She will probably make a trial trip on Saturday. The Fanny Bullitt is due from New Orlean this evening.

Some gentlemen at Jefferson City have a Moot Legislature, and in thus playing Legislators for amusement the other day elected Mr. Atchison to the U. S. Senate. The proceedings being regularly published, the New York Tribune got hold of this election as genuine and it was telegraphed to all the papers in the coun-

KENTUCKY AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL FAIR. Third Day.

To the Editors of the Louisville Journal:

LEXINGTON, Sept. 13. Thanks, ten thousand thanks have already gone forth for a glorious shower which visited us last night. or rather this morning. The dust is laid, the atmosphere cooled and all nature is refreshed and revivified, even the down-trodden grass on the show grounds seems to rise up in thanksgiving. The weather is now cloudy and unless we get more rain, this will be the most ter Hedges, eert. pleasant day of the exhibition, yet.

Yesterday was a laborious day for the judges, the exhibition of cattle was not concluded until near 4 o'clock. The number of head in each class was not so great, the number of different classes consumed much time in their display.

is said by good judges that the exhibition of Clay, sert.

Prive fat hogs, 1 entry—W. R. Estell, prem. classes consumed much time in their display. It years old has never been equaled at any previous exhibition in Kentucky. This is gratifying evidence of progress and improvement Of fat cattle, I have seen larger animals but, I do not think I have ever witnessed better specimens at any show than graced the ring yesterdey afternoon.

The heep were fine, mostly of the Cotswold and Smithdown herds, of the latter there were some very superior animals.

Hogs-These were mostly of the Yorkshire, Irish Grazier, and Suffolk breeds, and their crosses. The Grazier appears to be the favorite herd in this section. Richard Allen, Esq., of Fayette, exhibited a large imported sow of the Yorkshire breed with eleven pigs, all of which are very fine. Also a pair of Yorkshire and tators. In exhibiting calves, one entered the ring, and broke loose from his keeper, who was a rough sturdy African. The calf received the (N. J.) Chronicle, Sept and about 5 feet in the pass. Heavy rains fell premium, but was so wild that it would not suffer the judge to approach it to tie on the ribbon. It was finally secured to the negroe's ear; although not a model of his race, he left the ring apparently as highly delighted as though the honor had been conferred on him.

. I noticed on the grounds a newly arranged bee hive, known as Davis' patent self-ventilating hive. If the labors of this mysterious insect can be promoted by artificial means, it appears to me that this arrangement is a valuable one. It is a hive constructed with a view to ventillation, protection from the bee moth, and artificial feeding. The advantages claimed by the advocates of artificial feeding, are to have the parent hives fully stocked with honey previous to the opening of the flowers in the Spring, so that the natural honey the bees may gather, may go into the caps or boxes for market. This system of feeding is practiced extensively in some parts of the country, for the production of honey for the market. Its advocates contend that honey is a secretion from the peculiar organs of the bee; others argue that if you feed bees with sugar they will deposit only sugar in the comb. But this question I leave to the naturalist to determine. There is one fact, however, touching this point and that is, if, you feed bees with an artificial preparation, they will from this food elaborate all the wax necessary for the formation of the comb to contain all the food you will give them, this of course must change the constituents of substance deposited in the comb.

This is the day set apart for the exhibition of horses, the love and pride of the Kentuckian.

I am not able now to obtain the number of en-I am not able now to obtain the number of entries for to-day. There is a good display of Java. blooded animals on exhibition, principally of the Eclipse, Wagner, Boston, and Glencoe

The number of people on the ground at an early hour this morning far exceeds that of any preceding day of the exhibition. It is variously estimated at from 15,000 to 20,000. 1 carefully counted the number in one section of the great amphitheatre, and by estimation found it not less than 13,000; every seat is crowded with ladies, and all the passages are closely packed with men endwise.

To-morrow, the fourth and last day, will be devoted to the exhibition of draught horses and mares, jennettes, mules, and jacks.

It is now raining, with the prospect of a drizzling afternoon. H. P. B. The following are the awards of yesterday:

The yellow fever has appeared at Jesuit's Bend, La.

A dwelling house, situated in Hamilton township, Atlantic county, N. J., and in the occupancy of Mr. Westly Vannaman, was discovered to be on fire about three o'clock this morning. The inmates were asleep at the time, and before they could be aroused and warned of their dangfor size and good points are seldom surpassed by any breed.

A little incident occurred yesterday which caused considerable merriment among the spectrum. Also with the flames had spread with such fearful rapidity that nearly all chance of escape was cut off. As it was, a fearful loss of life occurred. Mr. Albert Ackley, a mason, who was employed in repairing the house, and two sons of Mr. Vannaman, were burned to death. A young man occurrent the same room with Mr. Also man, occupying the same room with Mr. Ackley, narrowly escaped burning to death by jumping from the second story window.—Bridgetown (N. J.) Virginia Tobacco Crop.—Accounts from the tobacco growing sections of Virginia, says the Richmond Enquirer, if not injured by a continuance of the recent wet weather, the product of the State will exceed that of last year. The inspectors thus far show an excess of 9,000 hhds. over the corresponding period of last year.

A German woman named Opendorf attempted to commit suicide yesterday morning by cut-ting her throat with a large butcher-knife. It appears that she had a quarrel with her husband, and was in the act of striking him with the knife but he repulsed the blow, and she cut her own throat. The wound is a severe one, but will probably not prove fatal. The woman resides on Hopkins, below Linn.—Cin. Gaz.

SEVERE DROUGHT -The present drought in this immediate vicinity is now rivaling that of last year, though its effects upon the crops generally are no so disastrous, as it occurs later in the season. The last rain which fell sufficient the season. The last rain which fell sufficient to lay the dust was on Thursday, Aug. 9th, and there are no present signs of the spell of dry weather being soon broken. The verdure of the country is rapidly changing to a withered aspect—the streams are getting very low, and clouds of dust are freely raised both by locomotion and the action of the wind. It is a singu lar fact that some wells in the country which did not fail during the remarkable drought of last year, are now complete of the "oldest inhabitants" completely dried up. From the following certificate of the State treasurer, which we find in the Indianapolis State Journal, it appears that the Central Bank and Farmers and Mechanics' Bank of Indian apolis and the Prairie City Bank of Terre Haute have complied with the provisions of the law:

OFFICE OF TREASURER OF STATE, ? Indianapolis, Sept. 10, 1855.

MESSRS EDITORS:-As the public is doubt less interested in the fact, it is proper for me to state that the following Banks have organized under the amended free bank law, to-wit: The Central Bank, and the Farmers' and Mechanics' Bank of this city, and also the Prairie City Bank of Terre Haute. These Banks have de-posited securities in this office, which would pay in gold one dollar and ten cents for every dollar issued by said Banks; consequently the paper of these Banks is as safe as gold could be and perhaps more convenient for commercial

W. R. NOFSINGER, Treas. of State.

It appears to us that if some arrangement could be made by which our banks in this city would agree to receive and pay out this money it would be a source of much advantage to our merchants. In this way we have no doubt that a large additional trade with Indiana might be secured to Louisville. The issue of these banks is evidently safe, and we think the arrangement proposed could be effected by means of exchange of the notes with the Indiana Banks, or in some other way so as to make this issue available to our merchants as bankable funds. We do not like to see any opportunity allowed to pass unimproved by which the commerce of our city may be benefited, and we hope our merchants and bankers will act promptly upon the suggestion we have made.

The London Medical Gazette gives the result of numerous experiments with roasted coffee, proving that it is the most powerful means, not only of rendering animal and vegetable effluvia innocuous, but of actually destroying them. A room in which meat in an advanced degree of decomposition had been kept for some time was instantly deprived of all smell, on an open coffee-roaster being carried through it containing a pound of coffee newly roasted. In another room exposed to effluvium occasioned by the clearing out of a cess-pool. so that sulphureted hydrogen and ammonia in great quantities could be chemically detected, the stench was completely removed within half a minute, on the employment of three ounces of fresh roasted coffee; whilst the other parts of the house were permanently cleared of the same smell by being simply traversed with the coffee roaster, although the cleansing of the cess-pool continued several hours after. The best mode of using the coffee as a disinfectant is to dry the raw bean, pound it in a mortar, and then roast the powder on a moderately heated iron plate until it assumes a dark brown tint, when it is fit for use. Then sprinkle it in sinks or cess-pools, or lay it on a plate in the room which you wish to have purified. Coffee acid or coffee oil acts more readily in minute quantities.

RETURN OF LETTERS .- To prevent fraud, the postmaster is required to be careful not to return any letter or letters put into his office for transmission, unless to the writer thereof, or some one presenting his written order. To enable him to know that the person applying for the return of a letter is the writer, he can require him or his messenger to exhibit to him the same superscription and seal that are upon the letter. If the postmaster is satisfied that the handwriting and seal are the same, he can return the letter, but must take a receipt and preserve it with the paper containing the superscription, and the order, if one were sent. A letter bearing the frank of an individual may be returned to him or his order.

Col. Thomas Hart Benton is busily engaged at Washington upon his "Thirty Years in the Senate." His powers of body and mind, it is said, are taxed to the utmost, and no other but Col. Benton could undergo the daily labor that he now performs. A letter says:

The second volume of his great work will be ready for the press in the spring. It will be recollected that he lost by fire last winter all the notes and manuscripts intended for this volume; yet, by indefatigable toil and the exercise of his giant intellect, he will soon be ready to supply his publisher with the manuscript copy of second volume. This is a great national work, and will tend much to give tone to American

CHARACTERISTIC ANECDOTE OF PELISSIER .-The following characteristic story is told of the commander-in-chief of the French army in the

Some years ago, Pelissier, on parade one morning, got angry with a sous officiere of a cavalry regiment, whose tenue seemed to him quite defective. He abused the man most violently defective. He access the man most violency and cut him across the face with his whip. The man seized one of his pistols and endeavored to fire at his commanding officer, but the pistol missed fire. Pelissier, swearing a fearful but otherwise quite calm, said: "Fellow, I order you a three days' arrest for not having your arms in better order!"

TRAGEDY AT FORT CALHOUN .- A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Omaha, Nebraska Territory, under date of Aug. and $511,600 in specie. 30, gives the particulars of a bloody affray at Fort Calhoun on the preceding day. It appears that the site was designated by the Legislature as a town. Since that time it has laid idle, without complying with the law, which requires certain improvements to be made. A squatter, of the name of Davis, went on it about three weeks before, and broke a large number of acres. On the 28th ult, a large number of the members of the last Legislature went up to oust Mr. Davis, but Davis was fortified in a log-house, with four or five men to aid him, and resisted, as he told them he would. He said they must take him a corpse if they took him at all. It is worth mentioning here that Davis agreed to vacate if they would settle the title to the land by legal proceedings; but their object was to disposses him by force, and then compel him to bring suit. At nearly the first fire a Mr. Purple was shot in the arm, and the arm broke. A Mr. Goss, from Iowa, was killed dead, and two more wounded. During the fight a parley was sounded. After three invitations to three different persons for one to be spokesman, Maj. Cochran, from the Bluff City, divested himself of his arms and approached Davis's cabin, when Davis told them that they-the outside party-had killed his wife and children. And there the matter rested, at the date of the last advices.

Our readers will recollect an affair which transpired in Buffalo some months ago. A man named Forbes had just returned from California after an absence of several years. On his departure he left his family and property in charge of Schaller, an intimate friend. Forbes forwarded money to his family from California, and Schaller appropriated both the woman and property to himself. When Forbes returned, he found his wife in a delicate situation and Schaller in possession of all his property, which he refused to surrender. Forbes then shot Schaller, the wound causing his death. The trial of Forbes came off last week, and resulted in his

The Boston Post says that Rev. Dr. Cone the distinguished Baptist clergyman, who recently died in New York, was formerly a theatre actor, and his last appearance on the stage was on the terrible night of the destruction of the Richmond theatre in 1811, when the Governor of Virginia and a great many other prominent citizens perished in the flames. He was afterwards editor of a daily paper at Baltimore, then a departmental clerk at Washington, and in 1823 became a Baptist pastor in New York.

Hogs IN INDIANA .- The Terre Haute American says contracts for pork are being made in various parts of the country at $4 25 and $5. The Vincennes Gazette of Monday says:

We heard of a sale of a lot of stock hogs, on Saturday, at 3 cents gross; and another at 44cts. gross; the seller of the last lot to feed them two

A "BARON."-Our readers probably remember sundry advertisements, in our paper during the past two or three months, in which one Harry de Kalb brought himself before the people. They may also remember (we hope they do not) certain commendatory notices of the said Harry, Baron de Kalb, which have appeared in our editorial columns during the same

The Baron De Kalb is an impostor and a dirty log, a disgrace to the name he assumed to bear He was recognized the other day by a gentleman and his son, who were here on a visit, as Martin Marrecks, late professor of German in a literary institution in Quincy, Illinois. He had won the confidence of the people of that town, as he did here, by temporary good conduct, and had escaped from thence one fine night, without so much as telling his anxious creditors "good-

He was next heard of in Louisiana as Count Nesselrode, figuring largely with letters from Secretary Marcy. Fortunately, he was exposed time for the full mat his schemes, and his hasty departure on Friday night was not attended by any very great pecu-niary loss to our citizens. We acknowledge ourself sold. He was a stranger, and he took us in. His general information, his studious habits and literary tastes, his conduct and conversation, so far as we observed them, and the seeming modesty and delicate reserve with which he spoke of himself and his history, had removed the unfavorable impression which his claim to aristocratical connections had, at first, made upon us .- Paris Citizen

POPULATION OF CHICAGO.-Elsewhere we give the population of West Chicago as re-turned by Mr. McKay, census commissioner. The reports of the commissioners of the other divisions have been previously published, so that we are now enabled to give the present total population of our city. In the following table we give the population of each of the three divisions of the city for 1854 and 1855. The census for 1854 was taken by Messrs. Hall & Co., in June, while compiling the city directory for that year. This year there is no return made of our marine population; we have therefore placed it the same it was in 1854, alhough it is doubtless larger now than then. The table will then stand as follows:

Convicted .- The September term of our cir-cuit court commenced on Monday last, Judge Duvall presiding. The only important case upon the criminal docket was that of Solomon Smith, charged with the murder of Wm. L. Smith, his own father, in April last. The trial was begun on the afternoon of Monday and continued until after night on Tuesday. After din-ner on Wednesday the jury came into court with a verdict of "guilty of murder." The prisoner heard the verdict without any particular manifestation of emotion, and was remanded to jail to await his sentence, which will be pronounced at some subsequent day of the term.

AGRICULTURAL DIVISION OF THE PATENT Office-A Circular.-The following circular has been issued by Mr. S. T. Shugert, Acting Commissioner of Patents:

In order more effectually to carry out the objects of the agricultural department of this office, it is designed to form a cabinet of seeds, to embrace all the principal varieties, not immediately perishable, cultivated in the different countries of the globe.

The object of issuing the present circular is to procure a complete collection of the various kinds of Indian corn growing within the territory of the United States. Should it be in your power to contribute to the formation of such a collection, you will confer ding by mail, as early as the 15th December next, from four to six perfect ears of each va-riety cultivated in your vicinity, labelling each kind, as far as practicable, after the following Eight-rowed yellow or King Philip corn, grown by Robert Lamprey, Lake Village, N. Hampshire.

Planted May 1, 1854. Harvested September, 6.
Distance of hills a part, 3 feet by 4. Number of stalks to each hill, 4. Estimated yield of dried shelled corn per acre,

Weight per bushel of dried grain, 58 pounds. Number of pounds of dried ears required for a bushel of grain, 70.

Product of grain of 100 dried ears, 40 pounds. In addition to the above, any information you can give relative to the application of manure in the cultivation of any variety, or the amount of fodder produced to the acre, will be thank-

Each variety may be done up separately, with portion of the husks or shucks left on the ear, in several thicknesses of strong paper or cloth, and addressed, United States Patent, Office official

No package can be transmitted by mail when enclosed by wood, glass, tin, or other metal, as all such substances are prohibited by law.

DISCOVERY OF DIAMONDS IN VIRGINIA .- On Monday, the 27th ult., a most singular discovery of two diamonds was made at "Dudley's Ferry," King and Queen county, the residence of Wm. Brooks, Esq. A correspondent of the Richmond Whig details the circumstances of the discovery of these diamonds, which are indeed somewhat remarkable. It appears that as a Mr. Taylor was engaged in sawing the timbers for a boat, out of an oak root, his saw struck some hard substance, which, upon being unched out and examined, was found diamond of the size of a black-eye shortly after, a smaller one was also found in the same root. The teeth of knocked out by the contact. The teeth of both saws were

The oak to which this root belonged was probably a hundred and fifty years old, and was growing a few weeks ago in the ground bord ing upon a swamp upon Mr. P.'s place. These diamonds were in shape octahedren, as most diamonds are in their diamonds are in their natural state-of course they cut glass finely and were translucid, apparently of the first water. When found, they were imbedded two or three inches from the surface of the root, causing a defect in the wood of it for some distance around. Can any one state another instance of a diamond being found as these were, buried in a root beneath the ground probably for nearly a hundred and fifty years? It will be will be remembered, that, about a year ago, a laborer, while digging in the streets of Man-chester, just opposite Richmond, discovered a diamond, a few feet below the surface of the earth, which proved to be one of enormous size, and was valued at some four or five thous and dollars. Connect the recent discovery with the one of last year, and it would seem that there are many or these product ded in the soil of old Virginia.

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE .- We regret having to record a serious accident to the family of Mr. J. V. Barbee, of this city. Mr. B. has recently opened a store in the basement of his residence, at the corner of Abercorn and Jones street. Yesterday afternoon, while Mr. James Daniels, of the firm of Headman & Co., was engaged in examining the gas pipe, an explosion place, seriously injuring all the persons in the store-Mr. Daniels was blown through the window, near which he was at work, breaking his right leg in two places.

Mrs. Barbee, Sr., had her ankle fractured, and sustained other injuries. A servant girl was somewhat cut and bruised but had no bones broken.

The interior of the store was a complete wreck. All the goods were scattered in various directions and the shelves against the wall thrown down and broken. The child died about 11 o'clock last night. At that time Mr. Daniels and the elder Mrs. Barbee were doing well. The younger Mrs. B.

was still suffering great pain. Savannah News, 8th inst.

Trouble Revived .- Many of our readers will no doubt remember the affair of Lieutenant Beverly Randolph, of the United States Navy, who pulled President Jackson's nose for striking his name from the navy list, on account of his failure to make good a balance claimed to be due from him as ex-officio successor of Purser Timberlake, who died on board the ship commanded by Randolph. The claim was made against him at the time by Amos Kendall, the Sixth Auditor of the Treasury. Since the nose pulling, the case of the unsettled balance has never been brought to trial, from what cause we are unable to say; but the present Secretary of the Treasury having insisted upon the prompt collection of all old balances the case is now undergoing investigation at Richmond, Va., with a fair prospect of a verdict in a few days.

There is a considerable falling off in the number of new cases, especially in Portsmouth.

Among the new cases reported the name of Rev. Dr. Walker, an Episcopal Minister, is mentioned Drs. Webster, of Baltimore, Upsher, of Norfolk, and Marsh of Philadelpnia, are about again. Several cases of fever occurred on board the St. Lawrence.

The report that the fever had made its appearance at Suffolk is incorrect.

BALTIMORE, Sep. 14. The Southern mail has arrived, bringing N. Orleans papers of Saturday. They contain no news of importance.

The Charleston Courier contains a yearly statement of the cotton crop. The estimate of the crop is 2,855,729 bales, showing a decrease, as compared with last year, of 73,410 bales.

DETROIT, Sept. 13. The Republican Convention of Michigan met at Kalamazoo to-day.

A series of resolutions were introduced and adopted, denouncing the repeal of the Missouri compromise, terming the imprisonment of Pass more Williamson, a tyrannical usurpation of power, and recommending a general convention of Republicans to devise measures to resist the encroachments of slavery, &c.

Speeches were made by Gov. Bingham, Sena-Wilson, and others.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15. Capt. Samuel W. Downing, formerly commanding the U. S sloop-of-war Jamestown, and who was cashiered by a court martial held in this city last year, died yesterday near Bristol.

New Book by Mrs. Caroline H. Laing.
THE OLD FARM HOUSE.

THE OLD FARM HOUSE.

THE name of the authoress of the above work speaks volumes of the nuthoress of the above work speaks volumes of her pen. For fresheass and vigor of thought and style and for originality—in the charming views of country life at the "Old Farm Hause"—in the striking illustrations of the follies of a fashionable city life—in her description of good and evil natures—in all the various subjects which she has touched with her magic pen, she cannot be excelled. The gentle heroine. Amy, is a model of patience and virtue, persecuted by the evil genius of h.r life, the villain Staunton.

The book will be read with avidity, and nonewho commence it will desire to lay it aside till ninshed. W offer with full confidence that its perusal will be attended with pleasure and profit to allreaders. Price $125.

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY.

In one duodecimo volume, neatly bound in cloth. Price $1.

THE author of this interesting American novel is among the most intellectual of living writers. It required the genius of the author to have grasped, with such extraordinary force, the scenes and circumstances through which her story moves. No other writer could have thrown as strong an individual life into place and locality. Her passionate fearless nature, her wild warm heart, are transfused into the magic world she has created, with such an intense carnestness, which no one can enter without yielding to the irresistible fascination of her powers. The book is a thrilling transcript of undoubted experience. The characters introduced into her work are flesh and blood realities. These graphic life revelations have created a profound literary sensation not equaled by any other production since the appearance of the "Scarlet Letter" and "Jane Eyre." and are "more talked about than any other novel of our times.

Braithwaite's Retrospect for July. To medical men the great advantage offered by the Retrospect is its embodying in a confined space all the cream of Medical periodicals, sparing them the labor of wading through many volumes filled with much trivial and uninteresting matter, which must be perused in order to reach what is really valuable, and supplying them with a key by the aid of which they may find precisely what they require in any of the scattered publications of the day. To families and private individuals it is scarcely less valuable than the professional reader, since, although purely and in the highest degree scientific, its contents are yet presented in a style so simple and unaffected that they are comprehensible to any ordinary intellect. The Parlor Grand is the very perfection all Grand Pianos, and is particularly adapted. to the wants of professors, amateurs, ers who may object to the great size

Grand.

The unique and beautiful style of this instrument and perfect fitness for the parlor are commendations that will upply to the ordinary Grand Plano. For, while it combine tone, power, astion, and appearance of a Full Grand, it the delicate touch of thickering's Square Planos, acknowled by warm or assumption and style and though of seven the delicate touch of hickering's Square Pianos, acknowledged by every one superior to any other, and, though of seven octave compass, is still smaller in size than the semi-Grand Piano of 6% octaves, as it occupies but little more space than a 7 octave Square Piano.

The peculiar and compact construction of the Parlor Grand, an invention of the late lamented Jonas Chickering, is a sure guarantee of its durability. And the complete success of this new and truly beautiful instrument fully sustains the reputation of its inventor and manufacturers.

We have already sold several of these instruments in this city, and, to meet the increased demand for them, have aranged for a constant supply.

To these superb Piano-Fortes we invite the attention of the public. Those in want of a Grand Piano should examine the Parlor Grand before purchasing. They are made only by Chickering & Sons, and can be had only of ourselves in this city, BRAIN ARD BROTHERS.
